

PACIFIC COAST UNIVERSITY
FOR WORKPLACE HEALTH SCIENCES

Invitation to become a member of the Pacific Coast University for Workplace Health Sciences
Research Panel
on Disability Management Theory and Practice

The Pacific Coast University for Workplace Health Sciences (PCU-WHS) is seeking Certified Disability Management Professionals (CDMPs) who are motivated to contribute to the development of students who are interested in pursuing a career in the field.

Interested members of the Canadian Society of Professionals in Disability Management (CSPDM) are invited to join a research panel from which students can sample respondents to participate in their research projects in the final year of the Bachelor of Disability Management program.

Members of the PCU-WHS Research Panel:

- Agree to be contacted by the University with invitations on behalf of students to act as participants in their final year research projects.
- Have the discretion to decide whether they wish to participate or not.
- Will be entitled to Continuing Education Credit hours for their participation.
- Are guaranteed that all research projects have been approved by the PCU-WHS Research Ethics Committee and appropriate procedures are in place to protect the confidentiality of their personal details and responses.
- Must have a minimum of 5 years as a CDMP and be currently in good standing with CSPDM.

If you are interested in joining the PCU-WHS Research Panel on Disability Management Theory and Practice, please contact Dr. Tyler Amell at dr.tyler.amell@gmail.com with your contact details and a brief CV of your professional practice in the field.
